

Summer Lee's Birth Story - Another beautiful blessing!

32 Weeks :)

Family photo at 32 weeks!

4th of July! The day before Summer was born!

Last picture with my little monkeys before they became a big brother (again) and big sister! :)

Our birthing supplies.

Our bed all prepared just in case we delivered on the bed again,

Listening to music and timing my contractions. I really enjoyed the peace and quiet. I felt very focused and calm.

Hanging in there!:)

I liked standing during some of my contractions. The counter was the perfect height for me to lean on.

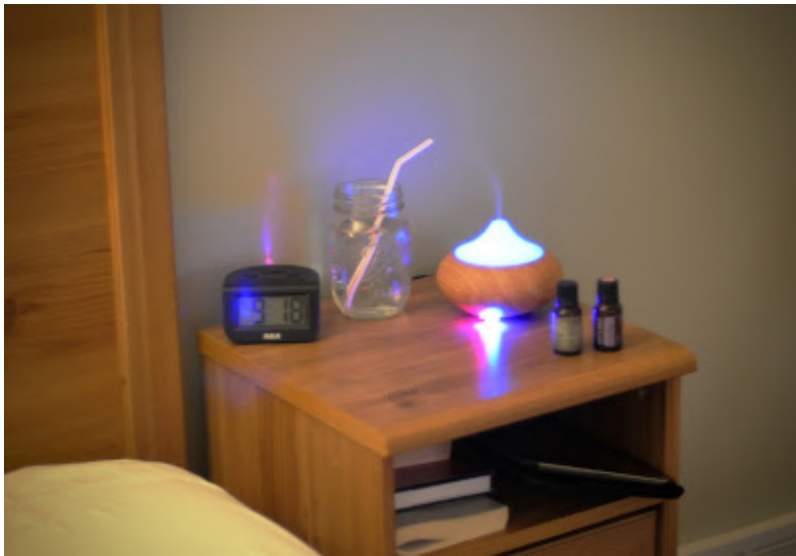

My amazing husband. I can't say that enough. He took such good care of me!

Once I hit the floor I knew we were getting closer!

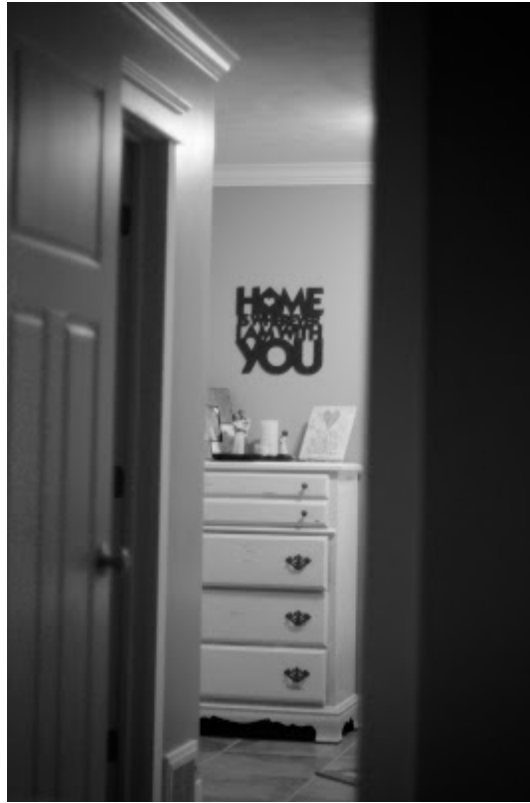

9:18! We were almost done!

Contractions were really intense at this point.

I loved the comfort of my bed!

I love that she took this picture of our bathroom. :)

Barb arrived and came to say hello. She is so comforting. I remember this exact moment.

Oh gosh I did not want to get up!

I knew I'd get a contraction before I could get in the tub! Thankfully Jay was there! Bless him.

I love this picture because I remember thinking, "oh boy...I hope I don't have to push for a long time." Lol!

I must have been saying something comical :) At least to everyone else ha!

Checking me to give me the go! :)

I love this shirt:)

Pushing!

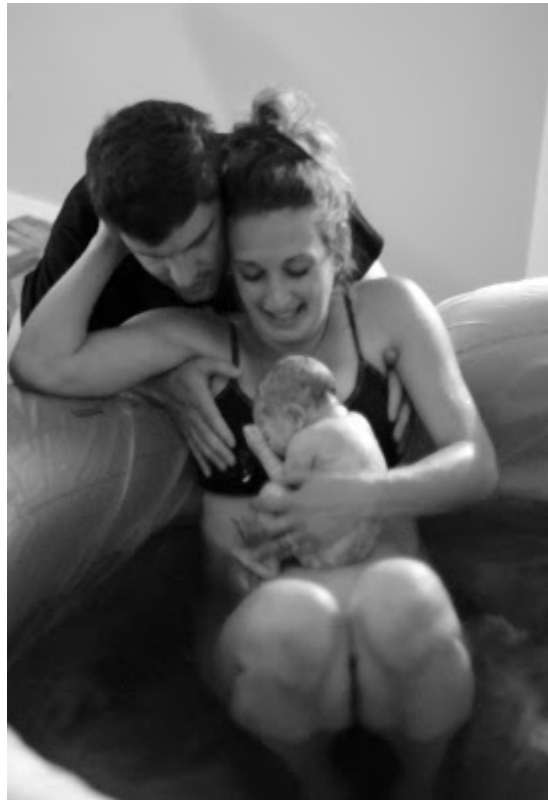

Baby is almost here!

Our sweet baby is here!!!! Happy tears! BEST FEELING EVER! Their warm wet little body on me...no words can describe that feeling.

My love. My teammate. My best friend! THANK YOU for being there for us!

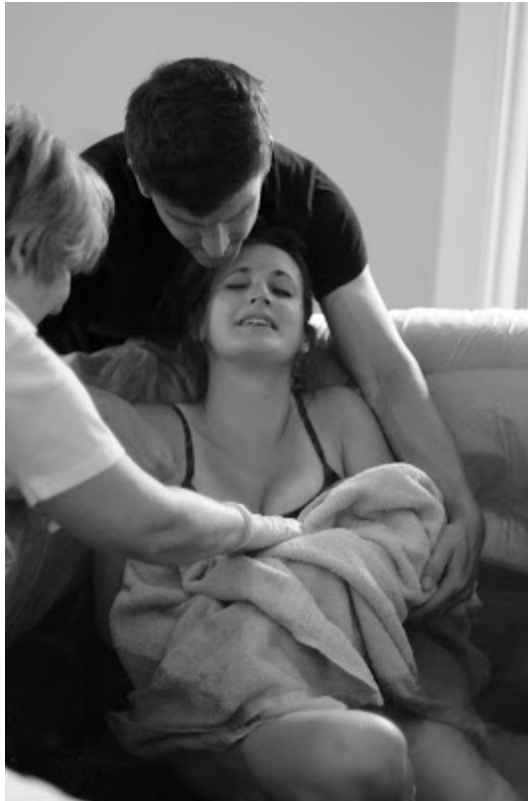

Pure joy.

I couldn't stop crying happy tears!

Sooo relieved!

Checking to see if we have a girl or boy:) It's a GIRL! :)

We love you so much sweet girl! Gosh I could go back to this moment over and over again.

The beginning of a wonderful journey together!

I love her little vernix feet and her umbilical cord.

Making our phone calls:)

Daddy cutting the cord:)

Getting weighed. 7lbs. 4oz. 20.5 in. long:)

Getting all checked over:)

Doing great baby girl!

I love this picture! She looks so much like Sawyer here! Also, her hair looks blond from all the vernix!

Daddy getting her diaper on and all dressed. :)

Time to get her spine checked!

She was perfect! :)

Daddy time while Mommy showers:)

We love you more than you will ever be able to comprehend!

So beautiful.

The little red booties we got from Auntie Cha. They hope to give you lots of happiness and good health:)

Our gift.

Fireworks were going off after she was born. Awesome timing!:) So thankful Jen took this picture!

Sawyer and Sophia came home the next morning to meet Summer!

She was so proud to have her own baby sister! Sophia has such a sweet heart!

They brought her a toy to play with:)

My heart melted seeing Sawyer so excited! We are so proud of the big brother he is.
